Dear Parents,

What a silly Suessical week we had at our school. Our VPK and Kindergarten kids had daily activities in celebration of the birthday of Dr. Seuss. I loved seeing all of the wonderful and creative outfits. In case you missed it, check out our Facebook page for the photos.

This week in the Science Lab I taught our VPK kids about Density. They reviewed liquids and solids and discussed how some liquids are more dense than others. They poured blue water, yellow oil, and red corn syrup into a test tube. They were amazed that the oil floated to the top, the water stayed suspended in the middle and the corn syrup sank to the bottom. In case you missed it, you can watch the video of the class, click here.

We are so excited about our upcoming Career Day. This is the first time ever that Career Day will take place over a 2 day period thanks to the huge response from our parents to share their careers with our students. On Tuesday, our kids from Blue, Rainbow, Orange, VPK and Kindergarten will learn about careers. On Tuesday, the entire school will visit different careers. Stay tuned for more information.

This week I began to give out the Handwashing Timers I made for families. If you did not get yours, make sure to ask someone at the Front Desk for it. I hope this little gadget helps to make handwashing an educational and fun experience as we strive to keep our students healthy. Please email me photos of your child at home using theirs! Thank you to all families who have helped us to keep our school healthy and keeping sick children at home. Now more than ever, if children come to school sick, they will be sent home.

Finally, do you love Stone Crab? If you do, The Crab Boys (www.thecrabboys.com) will be here next Friday from 3:30–5:30. If you wish to order fresh Stone Crabs, sign up at the front desk and we will call them on Thursday to place the order. Their prices are as follows: Medium 7–8 claws $18 per pound. Large 4–5 claws $34 per pound. Jumbo 3–4 claws $40.
